Father's Day, June 19

The first Father's Day was observed in 1910. It was the inspiration of Sonora Dodd, who hit on the idea while listening to a Mother's Day sermon the previous year. Her own mother had died in childbirth when Sonora was 16. She helped her father, William Smart – a Civil War veteran who had moved his family to a farm in Washington State – to raise the newborn, along with her four other brothers. Sonora had long held her father in high esteem, but it was not until she was an adult with her own family that she realized the hardships and sacrifices he had made as a single parent. Sonora approached the Spokane Ministerial Alliance with the idea of creating a day to honor fathers. She suggested that the observance take place on June 5th, her father's birthday, but the alliance chose to make it the third Sunday in June.

Today, Father's Day has become a day not only to honor fathers but also all men who serve as father figures, such as stepfathers, uncles, grandfathers, and male friends of the family.

Exercise caution in the summer heat

As the warm days of summer set in, keep these safety tips in mind to avoid stressing your body as you work outdoors:

- 1. Perform your heaviest tasks during the morning. If you have work that will require you to exert a lot of energy, it's best to do it in the cooler hours of the morning.
- 2. Build your tolerance. It usually takes a good two weeks for your body to acclimate itself to working in the heat, so give yourself time to adjust to higher temps.
- 3. Use the buddy system. That way you can keep an eye out and get help if needed.
- 4. Drink water. Health experts say you should drink a small cup of water every 15 to 20 minutes when you're working in the heat to stay hydrated and cool.
- 5. Take breaks. Give your body a chance to cool down by heading off to a cool area for a few minutes.
- 6. Eat lightly. Avoid heavy or big meals before you have to work in the heat.
- 7. Skip the caffeine. It makes your body lose water and increases your chances of heat illnesses.

How to Save Money on Your Next Summer Trip

Planning your vacation? Even if you're not staying in luxury hotels and renting limousines, you may feel like you need a bank loan (or a lottery win) to finance your trip. Here are some smart ideas for saving money and still having a really good time!

- Research your destination thoroughly. The internet, and a good guidebook, can help you find inexpensive hotels and restaurants. You may also discover free or inexpensive attractions, and find out whether museums, parks, and other attractions offer reduced admission on certain days.
- Stay outside the city. You're going to New York, but you don't have to sleep there. Often you'll find better hotel rates and cheaper restaurants a few miles outside the city limits.
- Go to the grocery store. Avoid the overpriced hotel gift shops for snacks and drinks. You should be able to find a local grocery store where you can buy cheaper, and healthier, supplies for your travels.
- Drive efficiently. Before an extended trip, check your engine oil, air filters, and other components that can affect your vehicle's performance. On the highway, keep your speed between 50 mph and 60 mph for the best fuel-efficiency. Don't use drive-through windows at fast-food restaurants; idling your car while waiting for your food wastes gas and pollutes the air.

Fly Old Glory with pride on Flag Day, June 14

President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed June 14th Flag Day in 1916, commemorating the adoption of the Stars and Stripes by the Second Continental Congress on that day in 1777.

The idea of setting aside a special day to celebrate the U.S. flag wasn't a new thought. One of the earliest observances of Flag Day occurred in Hartford, Conn., in 1861, at the suggestion of George Morris, to pray for the preservation of the Union at the beginning of the Civil War.

In 1885, a Wisconsin schoolteacher named Bernard J. Cigrand held a formal observance of what he called "Flag Birthday" at his school. Cigrand went on to become a passionate promoter of Flag Day, delivering more than 2,000 speeches on the subject, and is generally considered to be the "Father of Flag Day."

In 1914, Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane delivered a Flag Day speech in which he said the flag had spoken to him that morning: "I am what you make me; nothing more. I swing before your eyes as a bright gleam of color, a symbol of yourself." In 1949, President Harry Truman signed an act of Congress formally establishing June 14th as National Flag Day.

"A man's character may be learned from the adjectives which he habitually uses in conversation."

The Driving Test...

A professional juggler, driving to his next performance, is stopped by the police.

"What are you doing with these matches and lighter fluid in your car?" asks the police officer.

"I'm a juggler and I juggle flaming torches in my act."

"Oh yeah? Let's see you do it," says the officer.

So the juggler gets out and starts juggling the blazing torches masterfully.

A couple driving by slows down to watch. "Wow," says the driver to his wife. "I'm glad I quit drinking. Look at the test they're giving now!"
